The Current Legislative Session Will Impact
The Future Of ATV Riding In Minnesota.
Make sure your club's voice is heard.

The following email was sent by Ron Potter, ATV Minnesota president, to representatives of all ATV MN member clubs on February 11th. We are sharing it here with all our members to keep everyone informed of important bills being introduced at the State Legislature, including anti-motorized legislation that could negatively impact Minnesota's ATV trail systems, clubs and riders.

A Special Message From Ron Potter

Below is a Legislative Update from our lobbyist, Ray Bohn. He will be sending me these early each month so I can get them out to you. We hope these will be helpful for providing updates at your club meetings. I also want to remind you that we have a "Day at the Capital" scheduled for March 8th; information and registration is on our web page. We ask that you register so we can let your legislators know you will be attending.

I also want to mention that we have many bills introduced already, as directed from our Legislative Summit. Other bills are showing up that are not helpful or positive for our sport. If our bills encounter opposition, or if any of these other anti-ATV bills start being heard in Committee, we may need to take action quickly. In those cases, I will be working with our lobbyists to send out a Legislative Alert with information about a bill and a request that you contact your Legislators. We will provide some talking points to assist you with this conversation. If this happens you will need to contact your Legislators within 24 hours, so they hear from you prior to the bill being heard.

We have our monthly State Board call on Tuesday, February 21st, at which time we will get another update from our lobbyists, so join us then as well.

Regards,
Ron Potter, president

Legislative Update, February 2023 By Ray Bohn, ATV MN Lobbyist

The 2023 Legislative Session began with legislators hitting the ground going full speed ahead. The first year of a typical legislative session starts slowly, with incoming legislators spending the first 6-8 weeks learning about committees they were assigned to and getting educated on the duties and workings of the various departments, agencies, and boards which they oversee. Normally committees don't do much, if any, substantial committee work on legislation until late February or early March.

Because not much was accomplished last session and campaign promises made, the DFL majorities in the House and Senate plus the Governor decided to move ahead quickly on their very aggressive agenda of tax conformity with the federal government, action on abortion access legislation, immigrant drivers licenses, extending miners unemployment benefits, carbon free utilities, and a number of other high priority issues.

The Governor also presented his budget message and bonding recommendations the last few weeks of January. That proposed budget has just found its way to legislator's desktops for review and committee work. The Governor's Budget Bill is 13 inches tall, so it drew quite a bit of attention at the capitol!

In addition, bills are being introduced at a record pace: 1,396 bills have been introduced in the House, while 1,443 have been introduced in the Senate! Both are record bill introductions for this time of the session. The committees are starting to hear the Governor's bonding bills by department and they will begin putting together their bills using the Governor's recommendations as the framework for their own bonding bill in each body. Policy bills are being heard and now that the budget is out there will be a combination of policy and budget work being done.

Committees only meet twice each week now for one and a half hours per hearing. They have 3 hours per week for hearings, and they are probably averaging 3 bills per committee hearing. So that is 6-8 bills heard per week per committee. Put that beside the 1,400 bills per house introduced already, just to get a hearing will be a feat. But, somehow, the process seems to work and folks do get heard.

Speaking of process, all of the legislative offices are finally open to the public (and lobbyists). The Senate offices were open after the first week, but it took several additional weeks for the State Office Building House offices to open up so we could approach representatives and staff in their offices to see them without an appointment.

Good progress is being made to get ATV Minnesota's legislative initiatives formalized and presented to individual legislators for action. Listed below is the progress that has been made to this point. Please remember we will have our Day at the Capitol on March 8th in St. Paul to meet with legislators about our issues and spend the evening sponsoring a reception in their honor which all are invited to. We strongly encourage you to plan on attending. Look for emails on this event or check out the web page today!
